GOULD TRAMPLES MEXICO, 27-6

A much improved Gould football team went on the field last Saturday to trounce the invading Mexico Pintos to the tune of 27-6. Charlie Smith pushed over the first TD on the third play of the game and scored again in the first period after Hamilton had recovered a fumble. With one of Hamilton's kicks good, the Blue and Gold led 13-0 at the end of the first period.

The feature of the second stanza was the intercepted pass taken by Sonny Bean with which he scampered 30 yards to score. Again the point-after was good and the half ended, 20-0.

The third period was scoreless and both teams reached "pay dirt" in the final frame. Klain raced 40 yards for the Huskies' final marker. Flourey scored for the Pintos. The home team made 11 first downs to eight for the visitors. Mexico attempted 11 passes, had one intercepted and completed four. The Huskies passed only 7 times, connecting 3 times and also having one intercepted. The game was played with very few penalties, two for each team. It was Gould's second victory and Mexico's fourth set back.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

Forgive Your Enemies

DID YOU KNOW that when we hate our enemies, we are giving them power over us: power over our sleep, our appetites, our blood pressure, our health, and our happiness? You can be sure that our enemies would dance with joy if only they knew how they were worrying us, lacerating us, getting even with us! Our hate is not turning to them, but it is turning our own days and nights into a hellish turmoil.

The police department of Milwaukee once issued a bulletin with this statement: "If selfish people try to take advantage of you, cross them off your list, but don't try to get even. When you try to get even, you hurt yourself more than you hurt the other fellow! And note that those words were not uttered by some starry-eyed idealist, but by men whose business it is to look on the practical side of life, and to keep people out of trouble."

Even our magazines are preaching the commonsense of the above. Life magazine says that revenge can wreck your health. "The chief personality characteristic of persons with hypertension (high blood pressure) is resentment," said Life. "When resentment is chronic, chronic hypertension and heart trouble follow."

So when Jesus said "Love your enemies," he was not only preaching sound ethics, he was preaching twentieth-century medicine.

A friend of mine recently had a serious heart attack. Her physician put her to bed and told her not to get angry about anything, no matter what happened. He knew that with a weak heart, a fit of anger could take her right off into another world. William Faulkner was a cafe owner in Spokane, Washington. He had a quarrel and grabbed a revolver to kill. . . . But he fell dead from anger before he could harm the man. . . . this was the report of the coroner.

When Jesus said, "Love your enemies," he was also telling us how to improve our looks. I know people whose faces have been hardened by hatred and disfigured by resentment. And all the beauty treatments in the world won't counteract the hard lines of their faces. But love and tenderness and kindness will.

Yes, our enemies would rub their hands with glee if they knew that our hate for them was exhausting us, making us tired and nervous, ruining our looks, giving us heart trouble and probably shortening our lives. Let's take care of such a situation.

THE WEEK - Washington

this week caused members of congress to stop, look and listen and to attempt to gauge anew the economic condition of the country and what to do to meet those conditions.

Chief among the top news items which interested leaders were:

1-Statement of Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the federal reserve board, that retail prices are lagging too far behind wholesale price cuts.

2-Decision of the president's steel fact-finding board that a fourth-round wage increase for workers is economically unsound, but that a complete pension and welfare fund should be granted by management.

3-Warning of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that farm production is rapidly building up surpluses which under the price support law will force millions of dollars of government purchase.

4-Statement of the president's board of economic advisers that for the first time since October, 1948, industrial production rose for the month of August coupled with the census bureau report that civilian employment rose to $9,947,000 the same month, the highest for the year, but about 1,200,000 under the record high of a year ago.

Observers see in these somewhat conflicting reports the end of current deflation and a leveling off of the economic picture, but justification for the charge that prices must come down if wages are to remain at their present levels.

Probably the most important conference yet to be held on international affairs is the series of talks now going on between British, Canadian and United States officials over the crisis in the British economic situation. Isolationist newspapers and a handful of isolationists yet remaining in congress have made a lot of noise to the effect that this country is paying for operation of the British socialist government. All of which observers who are informed say is not true. These observers also point out that the people generally are not well informed over what collapse of the British government at this time would mean to our own economy.

They point out that economic technicians, both American and British, are agreed that unless there is prompt action, a major British economic collapse is inevitable. Such a collapse would not only adversely affect our own economy, but would virtually nullify action to date of the Marshall plan and play into the hands of the Soviet government. Such a collapse also would weaken the alliance of western European nations which we only recently joined, and thus would affect our national security as well as our economic security. President Truman has declared that we will come to the rescue of the British government. Apparently there is a general meeting of minds that British collapse would affect U. S. almost as adversely as Britain itself. There has been no agreement however on the course United States aid should take.

Political leaders in both parties are beating the drums over the race this fall between former Gov. Herbert Lehman and Sen. John Foster Dulles for the New York senatorship as a preview of what may happen in 1950 congressional elections. Lehman, an experienced campaigner on the Democratic side, is pitted against Dulles, making his first political race but well steeped in politics from the security of his corporation law office. Apparently none of the large farm organizations is wholeheartedly in favor of the compromise Anderson farm bill now pending in the senate. They have thrown their support behind the measure as the lesser of several evils, or supposed evils, in the Gore bill, the Aiken law and the Brannan plan.

For instance, the National Grange has endorsed the Anderson compromise over other plans because it includes cost of farm labor in determining parity and permits greater flexibility in support schedules. On the other hand Charles Shuman, president of Illinois agricultural association and a director of the American farm bureau federation testified that while the farm bureau regards the Anderson bill as a move in the right direction inclusion of labor costs in the parity formula is not desirable. He said inclusion of labor cost in computing parity would tend to raise parity levels in good times and depress them in adverse times, which is not good for farming.

BETHEL GRAMMAR SCHOOL—Grade VIII

For the past two weeks the Grammar School has been selling magazines. The total amount of money which we receive is $360. Our goal was $500.

The room receiving the most money was the sixth grade which got $325.70.

A manicure set was given to Carolyn Chadbourne for highest sales for the first three days. Sandra Myers and Raymond Coulombe won a radio for the highest sales throughout the entire campaign. Those selling $10.00 received a mechanical cat.

In charge were: Business Manager, Marlene Marshall; Assistant, Barbara Hulbert. Room secretaries were: Grade VIII—Joan Bennett and Russell Nutting; Grade VII—Mary Belle Bennett and Billy Coolidge; Grade VI—Bartlett Hutchinson and Glenyce Berry; Grade V—Carla Grover and Walter Kittredge. The school wants to take this opportunity to thank the townspeople very much for their cooperation throughout the magazine campaign.

Grade VII
The seventh grade with their teacher, Mrs. Lurvey, enjoyed a wienie and marshmallow roast at the Locke Mills picnic ground Monday evening, Sept. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Evans Wilson furnished transportation. Mrs. Robert Gordon helped supervise the games. Group singing was also enjoyed.

Many of the girls in school organized volleyball teams. The captains are Marlene Marshall, Beverly Onofrio, Matilda Skillings, and Donna Anderson.

Grade VI
The sixth grade is studying about sounds in science. We are bringing different things that make sounds. We have also made over a bookcase into two small ones for scientific things. We painted the bookcase blue. We call it the "Science Corner."

We brought mushrooms and different objects for our science corner. We are drying some tree fungus on which we will draw and paint pictures.

The sixth grade has different groups in Arithmetic and Reading. The prizes are being decided on by the school children for the magazine campaign. The sixth grade children are deciding on a special prize for collecting the most money. We collected $325.70 and our quota was only $111.

The fifth and sixth grade children are having Physical Education with Mrs. Hastings and Miss Varner. We play many games and have many joyful times.

for everything from Dunsill pipes to black pepper were announced—or goaded. The basic commodity markets trembled, retailers began taking a new look at British products they've been scornful as overpriced, and even the man in the street showed a spark of interest.

Whether this country will now be flooded with British goods of low price and high quality remains to be seen. In some instances, such as motor cars and chinaware, the price cuts may be very substantial—25 per cent or more. Other goods—such as Scotch whiskey—are so influenced by taxes and tariffs that it is doubtful if prices to the consumer will materially change. Raw commodity prices—wool, fats and oil, and so on—will probably decline only moderately.

The unknown factor lies in what the attitude of the British people, and particularly British labor, will be toward devaluation and its consequences. British labor—and this is also true in varying degrees of labor in all the Western European nations—has been growing increasingly restive under conditions of strict austerity and low pay. Indication are that widespread demands for wage increases will soon be made. Yet, as Walter Lippman has written, "The crucial issue . . . is how to reap the benefits of devaluation without suffering all the pains. The benefit of devaluation is to become solvent. But devaluation in itself will not balance accounts unless the painful fact is accepted or imposed that real wages must fall." If this view is correct—and it is difficult to argue against it—a critical impasse is in the making.

If British export prices go down, she must sell more goods to get as many dollars as she is earning now. She must greatly increase production if she is to increase her dollar credits. But, if the cost of production goes up because of higher wages or any other factor, she will be in the same position as she was before devaluation—she won't be able to sell enough as prices will again be too high.

Walter Lippmann's pessimistic conclusion to his article is worth repeating. He wrote: "The devaluation in itself is only a relief, like landing a ball without curing the infection. . . . The devaluation has registered but it cannot liquidate the continuing crisis which is the aftermath of the wars, the revolutions and the disorders of this dark and barbarous century."

TO THE PARENTS OF SCHOOL-AGE CHILDREN:

(A Contributed Editorial)
Do your children go to the local movie theater on Friday or Saturday? Or do you find the movies being shown on those nights ones that you don't care to have them see?

Do you also feel that our children are not getting their fair share of all the advantages good movies offer, in the way of education and amusement?

Assuming that most parents feel the same about their youngsters being out on school nights, the week end is the only opportunity they have to enjoy a "night out" and what child doesn't get a big thrill out of staying up past his usual bedtime hour?

The harmful results of such movies may not appear right away although if your child sees a "Cowboy and Indian" show tonight, you may be up intervals all night trying to quiet his cries and reassure him enough to get him back to sleep. They may show up months after, perhaps in tying some playmate to a tree and building a fire around him or carving a secret insignia on his back or branding him a "stoody" on the rest of the

A&P, TOO, TAKES OFF ITS HAT TO MR. C. WHIT BLOUNT

OF WAYNESBORO, GEORGIA

-AND TO ALL OUR OTHER GOOD COMPETITORS
WHO HAVE TAKEN A SIMILAR STAND

*[An Editorial From The Atlanta Journal,
Thursday, Sept. 29, 1949]*

Competitor Denounces Suit Against A&P

THE BOLD three-column advertisement in the current issue of the Waynesboro True Citizen catches the reader's eye. We quote it in full.

To our notion that advertisement by C. Whit Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A&P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked.

Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business.

Incidentally, it is about as effective an advertisement as could have been written for Mr. Blount's "Grocceteria".

Makes you sort of wish you were in Waynesboro to trade with him, doesn't it?

[An Advertisement From The Waynesboro True Citizen]

A Word For Our Competitor The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

There has been a move by the anti-trust department of the Federal Government to destroy our leading competitor, the A&P Food Store.

It may seem odd, but we are opposed to this move.

The A&P Co., is definitely our strongest competitor - they keep us hopping. But, we are still in business - And Expanding. We do it by selling quality merchandise, buying at a close margin and selling at CLOSER margin.

The so called "trust-busters" charge that the A&P Co. control some of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they hold the cost price down on foods.

WELL, WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS??

If A&P holds the costs down, it makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level. They can sell cheaper, AND SO CAN WE.

We intend to continue to try to sell better merchandise than A&P; We also will continue to have competitive prices.

BUT, We don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country.

Nobody's Business

An encouraging sign is the interest of the Chamber of Commerce in new street signs. Although they were repainted a few years ago, some were not well located and others now are missing. With the growth of local population the last few years there are many who are not familiar with the names of the streets, and the difficulties of visitors are even more acute.

This is National Newspaper Week. If we are to have days and weeks for all kinds of observances, we believe it is very fitting to honor the newspaper. Newspapers, perhaps particularly the weeklies, may be a very important factor in community life. The 1949 slogan for the week is "Freedom Goes Where the Newspaper Goes."

AMERICANS HAVE PRICELESS HERITAGE IN FREE PRESS

by Orrin H. Taylor, Past President, National Editorial Assn.

The priceless heritage which Americans enjoy through their right of a free press is appreciated most when we realize that "Freedom Goes Where the Newspaper Goes."

From the time of Peter Zenger, who fought all opposition in his contention that freedom of the press was a heritage worth fighting all enemies to retain — to the modern crusading newspaper man who is doing everything in his power to see that right is maintained, may be but a step in man's measure of time, but it is an important assignment.

Our freedoms were retained by those who thought enough of them to preserve their heritages for future generations.

All our freedoms are dependent upon the right of the people to be informed; upon their inherent right to read of the actions and activities of those who are legally elected to represent them.

Newspapers are custodians of the right of free expression and they should also be the guardians of that right so that strong men and women of today and the true Americans of tomorrow who shall carry on these freedoms, will be strengthened by the knowledge that their heritages were preserved.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to call our Brother, H. B. Jodrey, to his eternal Home, and Whereas, we have lost a loyal and faithful member, therefore be it

Resolved, by Oxford Bear Lodge, No. 51, K. of P. that while we bow in humble submission to the Master's will we none the less mourn our Brother, who has been taken from us, and that the memory of his pleasant smile and hearty handshake will ever be with us, and it is further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, that a copy be sent to his family, and a copy sent to the Bethel Citizen for publication

LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

An Agriculture Dept. Bureau reported last week that it had surveyed the buying habits of housewives, re. rice and beans. And knowing everybody is almost breathless for the answer, I hasten to tell you, Housewives prefer, the Bureau says, to buy their rice and beans in open-window packages or cellophane. And that is a good example of the fuddles the citizens of this fair land are paying for. It adds up to big diners.

Another sample of Bureau carryings-on are the boys who say that us citizens, above everything else, must be provided with Govt. kilowatts. Most good citizens don't have time to study kilowatts or know too much about 'em, so the Bureau says, to buy their rice and beans in open-window packages or cellophane. And that is a good example of the fuddles the citizens of this fair land are paying for. It adds up to big diners.

LEWISTON VA OFFICE URGES PATIENCE OF VETERANS

Veterans have been requested by Richard E. Fortier, officer in charge of the Veterans Administration Office, Lewiston, not to write to the VA asking the number of months their NSLI policies were in force, for the purpose of estimating the amount of their special NSLI dividend payments. VA offices have reported have received some requests of that nature.

First of all, Fortier said, none of the VA Offices in Maine maintain the necessary insurance records which would be necessary for furnishing a reply. Furthermore, a request to the VA District Office in Boston or to the VA in Washington can only interfere with and delay the final operations required in preparing and forwarding the dividend checks, beginning next January.

"Most veterans," said Fortier, "can estimate the number of months their policies were in force. In any case, they may be assured that the mammoth operation of calculation now in process in Washington will result in full payment of the amount of dividends to which veterans may be entitled."

DIED

In Bethel, Philip J. Mulligan of Rumford, aged 67 years.

Govt. boys go to town with their rosy picture of Sambo turning on the lights. But when you analyze things and try to deduct why any place is handicapped on account of not having Sam Old Boy in the power house, and you look at places like Chicago, and New York, and Philadelphia, and San Francisco, and Boston, and Saint Louis, you scratch your dome, and wonder. None of these big and prosperous cities ever needed to have the Govt. tinkering around in their power houses.

That is a new kind of angle, says Henry. Thank you, I says.

WOODSTOCK HIGH SCHOOL

School is again in session at Woodstock High with J. Douglas Thompson as principal, Miss Anne Crockett, commercial teacher, and Miss Claire Lapham, replacing Mrs. Mildred Delapa, as teacher of history and languages. We have eight seniors, 10 juniors, 20 sophomores, and 13 freshmen, making a total of 51.

We wish to thank everyone who helped us make a successful magazine drive.

The past week has seen the Freshmen struggling through their initiation. During class time everything was quiet, but at other times the freshmen offered amusement for the other students. Thursday, Sept. 29, was the highlight of their life. They wore weird costumes, paraded at noon and in other ways showed their greenness. During the evening they strutted to the Seniors' commands with Belmont House as master of ceremonies. After this the Seniors held a reception in their honor.

BEAR RIVER GRANGE

Bear River Grange, No. 285, met Saturday night at Newry Corp. Officers were all present but three. Those acting pro tem were Royal Hodson, Steward; George Stearns, Assistant Steward; and Edward Bennett, Overseer. There was a good attendance and as it was "Boosters' Night" we had a very nice program by our Lecturer, Annie Merrill. The program consisted of singing, readings by different members, a skit on safety by Robert Stearns and Earl Merrill. A tableau was presented and a guest speaker gave a talk on what is being done about fire prevention and he also showed some interesting movies. After the meeting Mr and Mrs Lon Wright furnished music for dancing. Refreshments were served. Next meeting will be Oct. 15.

The New-England Courant, established in Boston in 1721, was the first newspaper in the colonies in avowed opposition to the recognized leaders. It was printed by Benjamin Franklin's brother, James.
